Sado-Masochism

Perhaps the most bizarre form of sexual activity. Indications are that sado-masochistic behavior is as old as man himself.

The biggest difficulty for partners in this form of erotic enjoyment is the pairing up of a suitably complementary pair. One must derive pleasure from the infliction of pain on another during sex and the other must enjoy being inflicted with pain during sex. If they are well matched, then fun is had by all, although to the average ear it might not sound like it.
